This particular collection was the product of cognitions of the nature of life. If lines were not inspired, they were not put to paper. Some call this the Muse. In the play writing I worked with a set methodology: the lines should teach life lessons; each play should teach a whole life's lesson; the plots should be traditional, but denuded of fantasy and full of symbolism; they should be relatively brief (about one hour); each player's lines should be consistent with his or her characteristics - and that includes cadence and metering, but the metering should not be forced and certainly need not be iambic pentameter; the reality discerned must transcend both myth and cynicism.

Reviews

This book is definitely not straightforward to get started on studying but extremely exciting to read. It is really simplistic but shocks in the 50 percent of the ebook. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

-- Ally Reichel

This publication is amazing. It is definitely basic but shocks in the fifty percent of your publication. You won't feel monotony at anytime of your own time (that's what catalogues are for concerning if you question me).
